THE RIFLE.

Meeting of the Joint Committee of the National Rifle Association and the Amateur Rifle Club.

The joint committee of the National Rifle Assolation and the Amateur Rifle Club met yesterday | THE POSTPONED THREE MINUTE RACE WOM BY afternoon, at four o'clock, in the offices of the former organization, Bennett Building, Nassau street. There were present Generals Spaler, Mc-Manon and Woodward; Colonels Gildersleeve and Wingate; Major Fuiton, Captain Bruce and Mr. Coughtry. Colonel Wingate was in the chair and was a ft-continuation of the preceding pleasant Captain Bruce acted as secretary.

The chairman placed before the meeting a letter from Major B. Leech, dated May 1; a telegram from the Mayor of Belfast, Ireland, and several slips cut out of the Irish daily journals. Major Leech's letter treated principally of private de-tails connected with the approaching interna-tional return match. The telegram from the Mayor of Bellast was as follows:

Colonel Windars, New York :Mayor and citizens in Dublic meeting now assembled invite kitle Team to banquet here.

Mayor of BELFAST.

MAYOR OF BELFAST.

At a subsequent period of the proceedings the reply given below was returned to the above invitation, which was received in the most cordial and friendly spirit by the meeting:— NEW YORK, May 14, 1875.

MAYOR OF BRIPART :- invitation accepted with pleasure.

Mayor of Brivasy:

Invitation accepted with pleasure.

A discussion arose upon the question which was decided at the committee's last meeting as to the advisability of admitting Mr. Waterhouse to shoot in the Irish team should his practice entitle him to a place on it. Colonel Gudersiceve, who was absent when the resolution excluding men of the class of Mr. Waterhouse was passed, moved his reconsideration. Major Fution thought that a rule had been adopted covering the point and it should not now be aftered. If Waterhouse was the best shot in Great British there would be no objections to him on that head. The consideration was made by his own countrymen, who conceded that, according to the rules of Wimbledon, he was not eligible to shoot in a purely frish match, but that, it it were now intended to set aside a rule established and already acted upon, the best thing to do would be to declare at once that any man born in Ireland might shoot in the match. After some farther discussion, in which most of the members participated, General Shaler moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that the american riflemen desire to shoot against an Irish team, and to allow the Irish themselves to decide who shall be eligible or not to a nince agreed to.

This resolution was at once agreed to.

The reports of committees were then called for and the Treasurer, General McManon reported that since hist meethny he received some 5600, in payment of subscriptions already on the books.

Captain Bruce wanted to stir up the committee that the land been appointed to conier with the managers of the Bowery Theatre, in reference to the offer of a complimentary benefit in favor of the American team by that house. On the part of the committee General McManon affered to see the proprietors of the Bowery Theatre, in company with his lellow-committeeman Mr. A. Alford.

Colonel Gildersieeve thought that the team had siready gone far enough in accepting graduitous and from the outside public, and would like ther than that it was understood General McMahon and Mr. Alford should confer with the Bowery Theatre managers.

Colonel Gildersleeve, Captain of the American national rife team, announced that Major General Alexander Shaler had been dosen by this team as their umpire in all questions which might arise during the progress of the coming international matth. A passage in Major Leeder's letter (airwally referred to) conveyed to General Shaler the graditing intelligence that he had also been hamed by the Irish team as their umpire for the same anaton. General McMahon was named by the American team as their refered.

General McMahon was named by the American team as their refered.

General McMahon reported his having received a letter from General Hawley, in which this gentleman regretted his inability to finish the competition for a piace on the team or to go with them to freland in consequence of continued ill health and dures connected with the Contennal clebrations soon about to take place.

For the benefit of such American riflemen as may not have seen the result of the practice at the round bull's eye the following scores of two competitors for places on the Irish team are given:—

DEERFOOT PARK.

COMPERS-LADY BLANCHE THE WINNER OF THE 2:38 PURSE AND CORONER K. THE 2:30 CONTEST.

The fourth day's amusement at Deerfoot Park reunions of the spring trotting meeting, inasmuci as the weather was charming, the sport bighly in teresting and the track in hir condition.

First on the card was the unfinished three minute contest. At the time of postponement Thursday evening it will be remembered that five beats had been trotted, of which the black gelding Vulcan had secured two, the bay stallion Compeer one and the latter and the gray golding Henry Miller had made two dead heats, rather a "mixed" affair as it stood. The pools opened yesterday with Vulcan a decided law-rite over the others, but either the work of the previous day had been too severe or else Compeer lays over him several seconds when the struggle is not a severe and extended one, as he won the fifth and sixth heats withoutdifficulty in 2:41 and 2:40. Vulcan, of course, takes second and Henry Miller third money.

The first regular event of the day was a purse of $300, for horses that never beat 2:38, mile heats. best three in five, in barness. Of seven entries five came to the score-Robert Tuttie's bay mare Sarah Jane, Daniel Dunlevy's gray mare Helen, J. H. Goldsmith's gray gelding Rescue, A. Vanderbit's brown mare Kate Hughes and George Jones' bay mare Lady Blanche. Before the start Rescue was the favorite Branche. Before the start Rescae was the lavore over the field at $40 to $31. The first was a dead heat between Blanche and Rescue, when the former sold first choice, the average sums being:—Blanche, $30; Rescue, $16; held, $12. Blanche won the second, as alle did the third and fourth hears, and the race, without being budly pinched. Rescue took second money and Sarah Jane saved hears, and the race, without being badly pinched. Reschie took second money and Sarah Jane saved her entrance.

Winding up the sport of the day there was presented the race for 2:30 norses, purse of $300, mile neats, best toree in five, in harness. Four "good ones!" responded to the summons of the judges, these being I. H. Phillips's buy mare Adelaide. William McManon's oay gelding Coroner K., I. E. Bailer's write gelding White Cloud, and J. Hernstein's roan gelding Waiter. The pools before the stort averaged:—Waite Cloud, $20; Waiter, $10; field, $20, Coroner K. wear of and won the first heat like "breaking sticks" in 2:34, when the ruling terms were:—Coroner K., $30; White Cloud, $16; field, $16. Adelaide came to the front in the second heat, and, putting in some of her old time work, dashed under the string head and shoulders in advance of White Cloud, Coroner K. tord and Walter fourth. The mare now had the call ou the betting, and though she showed line bursts of speed during the nextheat Coroner K. proved her superior, as he did of all the others, and, toppeating the performance in the fourth heat, was declared the winner of the contest. Adelaide took second money and White Cloud saved his entrance.

OUR YOUNG LAWYERS.

CONFERRING THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF LAWS UPON FORTY-ONE GRADUATES-INTER-ESTING EXERCISES AT STEINWAY HALL.

Steinway Hail was two-thirds filed last night by a select audience on the occasion of the commencement of the Law School of the University of the City of New York. Chancellor Howard Crossby Statement Statem presided. Gilmore's Band was in attendance, and played during the intervals the most unlegal French and Italian airs.

The graduates, most of whom were in full dress, seated themselves on the front bench. On the platform sat Colonel Benjamin P. Wille, member elect or Congress, and other prominent men. At first there was a slight nitch in the proceedings. for the Chancellor announced the first address be fore the graduates had filed in, and, after a dead pause of several minutes, the band began to play mid the general giggilog of the audience. Luckily, the graduates did come in when the piece had been finished, and the Chancellor repeated his announcement.

GRADUATES' ADDRESSES.

Mr. Frederick B. Jennings, a young, slim gentleman, with a very slight beard, but with an immense voice, stepped forth and delivered the first address on the "Right to Defend the Wrongdoer." He polory esponsed the doctrine that a lawyer was right in defending a criminal, even though he was right in deceasing a criminal, even though the believed him guilty. In doing so he served the State by compelling the prescution to adduce the clear proofs of his guilt, and he served justice, for every man had a right to be hanged legally. (Appliance.)

the clear proofs of his guilt, and he served justice, for every man had a right to be hanged legally. Appliance, and every man had a right to be hanged legally. Appliance, and have a right to be hanged legally. Appliance, and have a served justice, and the results of the system of the Law of Marriage." He added to the system of the Law of Marriage." He added to the system of the devoices as in violation of addine principles of Christianity and pure morality. He depreciated the frequent assaults on the docurrons of the common may, which bound the family by indissoluble ties, and a cugas they were my preferable to those of the civil law.

Mr. Jaroid Charlot spose very ably on the "Law of Precedents." Which was slowed by selections from "Lonengrin." Mr. Joseph L. Stein delivered an address on the "Honesty of the First of the Statute of Limitations," and Mr. John D. Anrens on the "Supreme Court of Nations," after which a solo, cornet, "Polks Brillian," by Arouckle, relieved the monotony of the specifics.

After these addresses by the graduates of the Law School Mr. Channey B. Ripley read the report of the Executive Committee, which says that the attendance, sublicating had general interests of the school have been greatly promoted by the recont practice of offering and gwarding laberal prizes for excellence. They yourself that the irrends of the school have been greatly promoted by the recont practice of offering and gwarding laberal prizes for excellence, they yourself the experiment and further test it as a means of elevating the standard of scholarship, and general interests of the school have been greatly promoted by the recont practice of offering and gwarding laberal prizes for excellence. They remail interests of the school have been greatly promoted by the results of the pasty part. The first prize, as already of the contemporal of the first prize, as already stated, was awarded to Mr. Jennings for the best written examination, was awarded to E. J. Meyer, and the thurst prize, of $100, to J. D. Aarous, for lected at the coming election satisfactory in every respect to the stockholders, in the skill, wisdom and efficiency of which they may have confidence, thus giving to it the character of permanency, together with that moral, material and financial aid necessary to its success; time to mangurate its economies: the opportunity and means to reform existing and burthensome contracts, and put it in the position for devising and allow it time to carry out the plans which may be agreed upon for the improvement and completion of the road. With such a management, Mr. Jewett believes, so aided and maintained, there is no reason to donot the ability of the road to finally realize the expectations of those who have invested so largely in it. Without this aid, however, and without such a management, its career will be unstable, its policy fluctuating, its credit impaired, and, in the end, the result will be disastrons to many interests which, otherwise, might be fully protected and preserved. These words have a peculiar significance, in view of the reported efforts of Mr. Gould to control the next election.

THE FIGURES OF THE REPORT are interesting at this time and are thus clearly summarized by Mr. Jewett. The funded debt now outstanding amounts to $54,394,100, the annual interest accruing thereon being $4,073,108. Of the second consolidated mortgage $14,400,000 of bonds are outstanding, the balance of bonds, $600,000, making up the full amount of the issue authorized, $3,000,000, or $15.000,00, still remaining with the company. Mr. Jewett adds:--

THE METROPOLIS IN PORT.

After her long passage of twenty-eight days from Bermuda the long expected and anxiously inquired for steamer Metropolis was moored yesterday at her dock, pier 22 North River. She was towed nither from Dutch Island Harbor by the steaming Cyclops. Twenty-three passengers made the tedious trip in her. Contrary to the general the tedious trip in her. Contrary to the general fear of those interested in the safety of the steamer and the comfort of her company, there was no lack of provisions of any kind on the unprecedentedly long voyage, except in respect to tea and sugar; and as the water but rarely washed the decks there was less-hardship in the trip than had been presumed. From running short of coal it was impossible to use steam after the first few days, the remainder of the passage being made under sail at great disadvantage. Beyond slight injuries to her maintopmast and maintopmasthead, she sustained no serious damage. She was not, her efficers state, trailing before leaving Bermuda. Among the passengers the conduct of the emerodicers in the trying circumstances of the trip was nighty commanded; still they do not care to repeat the experiment of nearly a month on the Atlantic in a disabled steamer.
